Sangamon county No. 5 coal; washed peal 9 10 For the sake of comparison also the calorific values were determined under uniform conditions throughout by means of the Parr calorimeter and the results calculated to the ash-and water-free basis to eliminate, as far as possible, any variations in the process of sampling and to make, as far as possible, the different samples as well as the different lots comparable among themselves. The results for each sample are charted in the diagrams herewith. These charts are used by courtesy of the Engineering Experiment Station of the University of Illinois. The possible sources of error in the methods here used are discussed elsewhere in this bulletin. It must be admitted that in these preliminary experiments they were not at all properly appreciated at the beginning. Indeed, it was in the course of this work that some of them were developed. The work is believed nevertheless to be sufficiently refined for qualitative results, and the curves being simple and consistent, may be accepted in that sense with some confidence. It would be well to reserve judgment as to detailed quantitative measurements until the completion of the more exact large scale tests now under way. The diagrams show a distinct difference between the submerged coal and the samples exposed to...
