Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Rights and Duties of the United States Relative to Slavery Under the Laws of War: No Military Power to Return Any Slave In the present case, it would also be the property of traitors, waging an unprovoked and unprincipled war against their unoffending and too patient fellow-citizens, against their oaths of allegiance, and against the Constitution and laws they have concurred in establishing. There is but one other party who can convey any thing to these enemies, and that is a citizen of our own. By the laws of war, all traffic, contract, intercourse or correspondence between the enemies of a country and its citizens or subjects, is strictly forbidden. Hence all property of theirs, destined or in process to be transferred to the enemy, or property of the enemy destined to be transferred to our own citizens, is liable to capture and confiscation, not as contraband of war, but as enemy s property. Such presumptuous and sordid citizens, besides suffering such forfeiture, remain amenable to the laws of their country for treason or misdemeanor, according to the nature and aggravation of the case. All commerce between belligerent parties being thus prohibited, and all goods, wares and merchandize passing, or destined to pass, to and fro between them, liable to seizure and confiscation, contraband of war, which implies that goods not coining under that description are free, can have no distinct existence, but is merged by the common law of nations in the general contraband of commerce. For these reasons, there can be no contraband of war between belligerents, and it is immaterial whether the war be foreign or domestic. It follows that slaves cannot...
