The School Under Mr. Archibald Robinson Hoxton. There is always an anxious crisis when a great headmastership of long duration comes to a close and another begins, yet few men have come to the difficult responsibilities of carrying on and developing further along established lines a great boys school having had a more thorough antecedent preparatory experience than Mr. Hoxton. He was born on the School grounds on June 28, 1875, and was the fourth child of Colonel Llewellyn Hoxton, the Associate Principal, and Fanny Robinson Hoxton, a bright, witty, vivacious woman whose presence was ever like May sunshine in the School s daily life. Young Hoxton entered the School as a student when a boy of twelve and was there eight sessions, taking a vigorous part in both scholastic and athletic activities. He spent four years at the University of Virginia, where besides making a fine record as a student he became perhaps the foremost athlete of his time. He intermitted his attendance upon lectures there for a period of two years, while he served as a teacher at this School. He majored at the University in Mathematics, and at the commencement of 1901 took the degree of B.A. Since 1901 he has taught at the High School without break, and, while an undermaster, had the department of Mathematics. Mr. Hoxton was married on December 16, 1903, to Miss Sarah Purvis Taylor, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles...
