Excerpt: .to put him in possession as assignee before they left to sign the assignment, and he considered himself in possession, as he left his son and Mr. Hardee in charge for him. Hull, after the execution of the deed, went to dinner. Hardee testified to the same effect as Hull as to being employed by Hull to take stock, and that Hull, when leaving to go over to his office after the account of stock was taken, told him and Hull's son to open the doors and sell what goods they could for him, as it was Saturday, and they might make sales; that he was at the store at the time the Sheriff came to make the levy; that he told Mr. Archibald, who came in with the Sheriff, that an assignment had been made, and that Mr. Hull was assignee, and witness was acting for him. It was after three o'clock when the Sheriff came to make this levy. He went at once and informed Mr. Holmes, the lawyer of Hull, that the Sheriff was there. Was hired by Hull, and was at the store in charge for him when the attachment was levied, that he does not remember telling Archibald he was acting for Bessent, and that if he did he merely meant that he was under him as Hull's chief clerk, as he had heard Hull employ him as clerk, and we regarded him then as head clerk....
